Agreement for Private 8 Week Ascendancy Consulting Program

This agreement is between _____ (you) and Robert Affolter (doing business as Affolter Academy, LLC, or Academy).

You agree that you have looked at the material at the Academy's web site and realize that many books and courses are available that do not offer personal contact.

You agree that you would like the insights of the Academy to help your personal growth.

You agree that although the financial commitment is considerable, you will not undergo financial hardship because of your payment to the Academy. If you cannot afford the program, please wait until you can.

You understand that the Academy is Not a Coach! You WILL NOT be told you what you MUST do. You WILL NOT be told what decisions to make. You WILL NOT be held accountable for your actions. Coaches can be wonderful. If you are looking for someone to tell you what to do and then hold you accountable for doing it, hire a coach.

The Academy will recommend exercises for you. Whether you perform the exercises or not is up to you. Whether you get any benefit from the exercises or not is up to you. It is like doing homework in school. I will do my best to help you. Your change is up to you. There are no refunds.

The Academy makes no promises or guarantees regarding the process. Like all forms of education, what you do with it is up to you. There is no guarantee that you will make more money, result in any specific outcome, or improve your life in any way.

The Academy instructors are not lawyers, accountants, or financial advisors. All information should be treated as opinion and you should seek professional advice as needed.

With the above agreements and understanding, we are agreeing to an 8-week program of consultations. The consultations will typically be 30 minutes long, twice per week and by phone or internet. The Academy may, in my discretion, provide more time than that. However, that would be a bonus and is not to be expected. Make the most of your consulting calls.
